How do you help every student feel seen, valued and included?

"As a racialized woman of colour, I understand the impact of feeling overlooked or excluded, which drives my commitment to ensuring every student feels seen, valued and a strong sense of belonging. I intentionally create opportunities to celebrate identity and culture through initiatives such as Language of the Week, cultural observances and an annual Cultural Day, where students proudly share their heritage through dance, traditions, food and activities. These experiences amplify student voice, foster cultural understanding and strengthen an inclusive school community where every learner can thrive."
