How do you create opportunities for student, family and staff voice to ensure anti-oppressive learning in your school?

“ We actively gather input from our school community through face-to-face meetings, surveys, Student Voice Group discussions and daily interactions, integrating it into our School Improvement Equity Planning goals and actions. Every decision is guided by my commitment to student success. Whether it's allocating budgets for resources, planning inclusive field trips or organizing spirit days, we ensure that all students can participate fully and see themselves reflected in their learning environment. ”
