

The Principal Profile

Allina Lee

Principal, École White Haven PS
Toronto District School Board

How do you help students and staff feel valued and included in your school community?

“ Building positive and productive relationships with students, community and staff is the foundation of everything I do as a principal. I am present and attentive in interactions with school community members, believing each conversation impacts the learning and school experience for students. I respect the identities of everyone in the school community and try to address each person by name, so students, families and community members feel seen, heard, valued and included. ”
